MATRIMONIAL.

The Jessamine News give the following account of a wedding of much interest here, where the bride has been a frequent visitor to her relative, Mrs. W. E. Board:

The wedding of Miss Emily Barnes and Mr. Camillus Chatham was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Barnes, in this city, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. W. F. Taylor officiating. The parlor where the ceremony was performed was artistically decorated for the occasion in palms and growing plants. The little nieces of the bride, Martha Layton and Emily Scott, were the flower girls. Miss Rena Chatham, sister of the groom, and Mr. Roy Land, of Fayette county, being the attendants. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Chatham left for Shakerstown and from there they went to Harrodsburg to visit his relatives. The bride is one of Nicholasville's most attractive girls and is the youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Barnes, while the groom is a young man of fine business qualities, being manager of the Cumberland Telephone Company, which position he has held for about two years. Upon their return they will reside with the bride's parents.

The marriage of Miss Rosa Saloshin, the handsome and vivacious daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Saloshin, of this city, and Mr. Sim Levy, a prominent young business man of Louisville, will be celebrated in October.

Jewish New Year.

Most of our Hebrew merchants will observe Thursday as New Year by closing their places of business and otherwise living up to their religious customs.

The Blue Grass Fair.

The Blue Grass Fair opened yesterday under happy auspices with the greatest first day in the history of all the Lexington fairs, in interest attendance and receipts. Miss Alice Bradley was introduced to the visitors as the Queen of the Fair amid thunderous applause.

Cake Sale.

The ladies of the Second Presbyterian Church will have their annual big cake sale on the day before Thanksgiving day.

Crap Game Raided.

Policemen J. C. Elgin and James Burke raided a crap game in Claysville Saturday night a little before 10 o'clock. Charles Burris, the proprietor, and Chub King, Morris Hutsell, Dan Howard and Fieiding Williams, all negroes, were arrested. After the negroes were lodged in jail Officer Elgin secured a wagon and moved the bottles and jugs of whiskey that were found in the room.

They were arraigned before Judge Dundon yesterday afternoon and pleaded not guilty, and their trials were set for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Popular Grocer Has a Narrow Escape.

Mr. Chas. T. Kenney, the popular South Main street grocerman, had a narrow escape from being crushed to death a few days ago. One of the big doors, which weighs at least 500 pounds, in rear of his storeroom run off the rollers, and Mr. Kenney was trying to push it back when it fell, catching him under it. He received a terrible cut and knot on the head, two broken ribs and several other severe and painful bruises. The only thing that saved Mr. Kenney from fatal injuries was a heavy bucket that was setting near the place he was standing when the door fell.

DEATHS.

—Wallace M. Justice died at the home of his parents, Dr. W. M. Justice and wife, on Lexington avenue, Winchester, after an illness of over a week of softening of the brain. He was about thirty-six years of age and unmarried. For several years he was a bookkeeper for the Swann-Day Lumber Company at Clay City and Jackson, and for the Kentucky Lumber and Veneer Company at Robbins, Ky. He was a nephew of Mrs. Harvey Hibler, of this city.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Blair Lee, a Kentucky woman, who was the intimate friend of Andrew Jackson, and a prominent woman in the affairs of the National Capital, is dead. She was born in Frankfort, Ky., and her family on both sides has been prominent in public life.

—George Stevens, the popular clerk of the Brown-Proctoria Hotel at Winchester, was found dead in his room Sunday morning. Mr. Stevens was attending to his duties Saturday night as usual and was last seen about 10 o'clock, when he retired to his room apparently in as good health as usual. He did not appear Sunday morning and when the porter went to call him he found him dead. He had never retired, being only partly undressed, and lying across the bed. Doctors gave the cause of death as heart failure. He was 45 years of age and formerly lived at Ruddles Mills, this county.

Farmers Hold Interesting Meeting.

The Bourbon County Farmers Institute was called to order Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Court House by President Thos. Henry Clay, and a very interesting meeting was held, although the crowd was small.

Hon. A. S. Thompson took up the subject of the culture of alfalfa. The subject was also discussed by May Goff, of North Middletown, who has nine acres sown five years ago, and six acres sown two years ago. From the former Mr. Goff displayed a sample of from the fourth cutting, which was fully matured and he said that the four crops had produced four tons of well cured hay to the acre. Mr. Goff said that in his opinion alfalfa had come to stay and predicted that within a few years, when its value as a hay crop became better known it would be largely planted for this purpose.

R. B. Hutchcraft read an interesting paper in regard to curing of tobacco in barns and the house-burning of the crop after being hung in the barn. He said that farmers in constructing their barns had endeavored to correct the trouble by putting ventilators in the top of the buildings, but experience had taught that the excessive heat forced the moisture and dampness arising from the curing back into the barn instead of permitting its escape.

The subject was further discussed by Capt. James R. Rogers and Mr. John A. LaRue, who told of the difficulties that confronted farmers during the cutting season as experienced at the present time.

A general discussion ensued as to the best plan to be followed to secure proper interest in the meetings of the institute, which promises to be of great benefit to the entire agricultural interests of the county. The meeting adjourned to meet on the 13th day of October, when a larger attendance is expected.

Visits Virginia State Fair.

Hon. A. S. Thompson has returned from Wheeling, W. Va., where he has been attending the State Fair. Mr. Thompson says that nowhere do the agricultural prospects appear brighter than in the bluegrass section of Kentucky. While at the fair Mr. Thompson bought a premium yearling South-down buck to head his flock, paying a fancy price.

Real Estate Sales.

Jas. H. Rainey, Jr., sold yesterday, to John Jim Cumber two acres of ground, near Ruddles Mills, for $800.

Cattle Escape From Pens.

A car load of cattle from Louisville, Tenn., enroute to the Cincinnati market was unloaded here Saturday night to be watered and fed. When the hour arrived to reload them it was discovered that they were missing, which gave rise to the report that the cattle had been stolen. They were found Sunday morning six miles from Paris, near the farm of Squire E. P. Claybrook, the pike gate at the pens having been open when the cattle were taken off the cars.

New Songs.

Some of the latest song successes will be heard in the great comedy "A Race For a Widow." Pete Baker, the famous comedian, will introduce his great dialect song of all nations, his yodling and medleys. "The Sunshine of My Heart," "The Game of Teer," "German Huntsman," etc., Nina-Belle Wilber, "The Widow," will sing the great New York craze, "Waiting at the Church," and "Black and White." Joseph Ferguson will give imitations of George Cohan in his late songs "Nothing New Under the Sun," etc., and Fay Templeton's "Mary," "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," and many others.

Paris Challenges the Lexington Ball Club.

Paris baseball club challenges the Lexington Base Ball club and defies them to accept any of three propositions offered below:

Paris, Ky., September 17th, 1906. To the Management of the Lexington Baseball Club:—

Having failed to make arrangements with your Mr. Scrugham for a series of games between Paris and Lexington, I wish to make you the following propositions. You may accept either one that suits you.

We will play you a series of three Sunday games, dates to be arranged later, on either of the following conditions. We will play you for fifty per cent of the gate receipts, or we will play you winner to take all the gate receipts, or we will play you for a side bet of $100 and either split the gate receipts or winner take all the receipts.

Yours, etc.,
DESHA LUCAS,
Manager Paris Baseball Club.

Dangers of Defective Plumbing!

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs or contagious disease to which the human system readily succumbs. Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures. If in doubt, consult us regarding the piping and repairing defective fixtures with "STANDARD" Porcelain Enamelled Ware, acknowledged as the best sanitary equipment.

Hays' Friends Satisfied.

There is no truth in the story being published in machine papers, that General Hays' friends held a conference in Louisville the other day and endeavored to get Hays to withdraw from the race so Senator Joe Blackburn could enter in his stead. The friends of General Hays probably did get together in Louisville, while they were there at the Bryan reception, but there was no such conference as above mentioned. Hays is in the race to stay and has never even considered the idea of quitting. It has even never been suggested to him in any way, so we are informed by those who are his close personal friends.

General Hays and his friends have been on the aggressive from the very start of his campaign. Mr. Hager, his opponent, has and is now on the defensive, making all sorts of excuses, apologies and denials.

In the Hays camp all things look well and his followers are satisfied with the situation.

By Way of Contract.

We are indebted to an exchange for the following, which comes very near being the truth, and we concluded to give it to you:

If an editor makes a mistake he has to apologize for it, but if a doctor makes one he buries it. If the editor makes one there is a lawsuit, swearing and the smell of varnish. A doctor can use a word a yard long without knowing what it means, but if the editor uses it he has to spell it. If a doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges for the visit, but if an editor goes to see another man's wife, he gets a charge of buckshot. When a doctor gets drunk, it's a case of "overcome by heat," and, if he dies, it is heart trouble. When the editor gets drunk it's a case of too much booze, and, if he dies, it's a case of delirium tremens. Any old college can make a doctor. You can't make an editor; he has to be born.

The Right Idea.

President Dabney of the University of Cincinnati does not take kindly to the Roosevelt-Carnegie spelling reform. President Dabney says: "Neither Mr. Carnegie's cash or Mr. Roosevelt's command can make English over again. The English language has grown and must continue to grow. If our English spelling is to be revised in accordance with a system of phonetic orthography it must be consistently done. I fail to see the consistency of 'thru' and 'neighbor', for example. America can not establish an independent spelling of its own separate from the English, and it would be a calamity if we did; we have too many vulgarisms of our own now. If our English spelling is to be revised at all on phonetic lines, in my opinion it can be done only by the carefully considered action of a commission of the best scholars and writers of all English speaking people."

Cheap Gas.

Gas in Nottingham, England, is 60 cents per 1,000 feet and at Widnes in Lancashire with a population of only about 30,000 it is 30 cents and large consumers will pay from 22 to 26 cents. This is undoubtedly the cheapest gas in the world, but the profit on the gas works to the municipality that owns them was $22,887.15. This information is official and is reported by our Consul F. W. Mahin to the State Department. What must most of our gas companies be making that charge from 90 cents to $1.50 per 1,000 feet?

Democratic Position on the Tariff.

In a speech delivered in the House of Representatives on May 3, 1906, John Sharpe Williams, the Democratic floor leader, defined the Democratic position on the tariff as follows: "We are simply anti-protectionists. We are not free traders. Our purpose is revenue. We would not inaugurate protectionism where it does not exist. We would remove it wherever it does exist, as rapidly as it can safely be done."

Will Not Bear Inspection.

Senator Beveridge throws up his hands and surrenders on every issue and makes the endorsement of the President the only thing left for the Republicans. The Democrats have always claimed that Republican policies will not bear inspection and nothing but a Democratic Congress will relieve the people from trust tariff protection and corporation plundering.

A Quaint and Curious Document Worth Reading.

Several years ago Charles Lounsberry, a Chicago lawyer, who at one time ranked high in his profession, died, an insane patient in the Cook county asylum. Although this man died absolutely destitute and penniless, he left the following "will," which is quoted in part:

"I, Charles Lounsberry, being of sound and disposing mind and memory do hereby make and publish this, my last will and testament, in order, as justly as may be, to distribute my interest in the world among succeeding men.

"Item: I leave to children exclusively, but only for the term of their childhood, all and every flower of the fields and the blossoms of the woods, with the right to play among them freely according to the customs of children, warning them at the same time against thistles and thorns.

"And I leave to children the long, long days to be merry, in a thousand ways, and the night, and the moon, and train of the milky way to wonder at, but subject, nevertheless, to the rights hereafter given to lovers.

"Item: I devise to boys jointly, all the useful idle fields and commons, where ball may be played; all pleasant waters where one may swim; all snow-clad hills where one may coast, and all streams and pounds where one may fish, and where, when grim winter comes, one may skate, to have and to hold these same for a period of their boyhood.

"Item: To lovers I devise their imaginary world, with whatever they may need, as the stars of the sky, the red roses by the well, the bloom of the hawthorn, the sweet strains of music, and aught else they may desire to figure to each other the lastingness and beauty of their love.

"Item: To young men, jointly I devise and bequeath all boisterous, inspiring sports of rivalry, and I give to them the disdain of weakness and undaunted confidence in their own strength.

"Item: To our loved ones with snowy crowns I bequeath the happiness of old age, the love and gratitude of their children until they sleep."

A Great Show.

On Saturday, September 22, at the Big Bluegrass Fair at Lexington will be witnessed the largest and the best show of thoroughbred horses ever held in the world. Premiums have been set aside for this particular department amounting to over six thousand dollars and to compete for them will be gathered together all of the most famous horse flesh of this great producing section. In addition to the hundreds of thoroughbred horses that will be shown for the regular prizes, the owners of many of the famous stallions of the Bluegrass have consented to allow their stallions to be exhibited. Among others will appear Rock Sand, the third largest money winner in the history of the world and the horse for which Mr. August Belmont paid in England last spring $125,000. Others of Mr. Belmont's stallions will be on exhibition; all of the stallions of Mr. James R. Keene's Castleton farm; Mr. James B. Haggin will exhibit imp. Watercress, imp. Star Ruby, imp. Goldfinch, Africander, Kinley Mack, Waterboy, McChesney, and others of his famous horses. A reasonable estimate will show on exhibition at the Bluegrass Fair, on Saturday, September 22, over two millions of dollars worth of horse flesh. It is a show that should not be missed by any Kentuckian.

Experience Cost $68,000.

Taking advantage of her ignorance of the ways of the world, bold New York swindlers recently secured $68,000 from Mrs. Emile Heine, a wealthy Cincinnati, O., widow, by representing themselves as a firm of carpet furnishers. Detectives from New York City and Cincinnati have been engaged on the case ever since, but no clue to the slick crooks has been discovered.

Mrs. Heine is the widow of the late Charles H. Heine, one of Cincinnati's wealthiest merchants, and, as her father was also a rich man, she is possessed of many millions. She decided to refurnish her residence in Cincinnati, and took great delight in making her own selections, going to New York City for that purpose. In some manner she was induced to select her carpets from a firm of carpet dealers on Fifth avenue, supposedly an ephemeral concern, which had rented a vacant storeroom for a short time.

She was impressed with the stock exhibited by the bogus carpet men, and selected the floor coverings for her entire residence, and, in a spirit of unusual liberality, drew her check then and there for the entire amount of the bill—$68,000. She then departed for her Western home, to await the arrival of her carpets and rugs. Days passed and nothing came, and Mrs. Heine finally became suspicious, and notified the police. It was found that the check had been cashed the same day it was presented, but beyond that the swindlers have carefully covered their tracks.

Another Fighting Invention.

The torpedo motor boat, the newest practical dread engine of naval warfare, is attracting the attention of the world's naval experts. England is confident that this, her latest wrinkle in naval equipment, is going to revolutionize naval destruction and construction. She is going to attach three of them to the great battleship "Dreadnaught" and in battle they will be swung from the battleship's decks into the sea and hurled at the enemy with the speed of an express train.

Mercury II, the first torpedo motor-boat, is a little thing, comparatively, as any boat must necessarily be, to be carried about. It is 60 feet long, a flat nine feet broad, weighs eight tons and draws only 18 inches of water. But it is a petroleum demon of wonderful powers, nevertheless, and is capable of traveling 800 miles at 24 knots an hour. Accommodations for crew are very limited; not much larger than on the ordinary pleasure boat of today.

Yarrow invented and built the boat. The other day he had King Edward and Queen Alexandra on board for a trial trip. After the king had left the boat, the Queen requested the builder to run it at top notch speed, and for some time Her Majesty was shot through the water at greater speed than royalty had ever before traveled on the sea.

If the torpedo motor boat does all that is claimed for it it may not be long before such craft will be carried by every big battleship and cruiser afloat, just as innocent little naphtha launches are now.

The career of Mercury II should interest all Americans greatly; for our country is now the third naval power of the world. Washington is said to be keeping a sharp eye on this little creation with a stern as ungainly as a scow's.

A FAMILY SAFEGUARD

"The best family safeguard is a reliable household medicine that will cure croup, coughs, colds, chilly sensations, running eyes and nose, sore throat and bronchial affections—that will keep the children proof against all contagious diseases. Such a medicine is Boschee's German Syrup, which has a record of 35 years in the cure of consumption, catarrh and all lung and bronchial troubles.

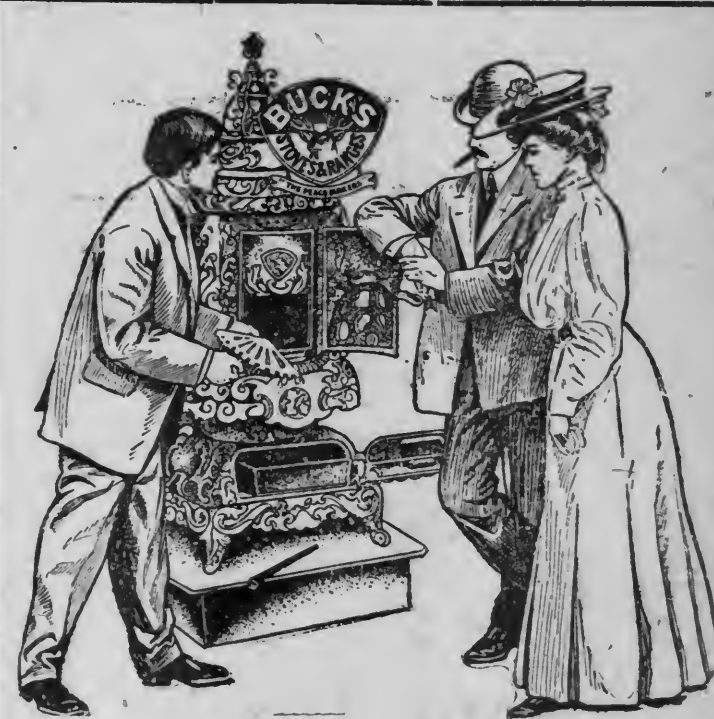

"The fame of German Syrup as a consumptive cure, since its purchase by Dr. Green from the niece of the famous Dr. Boschee, has extended to all parts of the earth. It has big sales everywhere. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists."

Pure Malt Whisky.

Duffey's Pure Malt Whisky for medicinal and family use can be found at L. Saloshin's, corner Main and Seventh streets. He also handles the Vanhook, Sam Clay, Mellwood, Poindexter and Chicken Cock. His place is headquarters for Old Vanhook at $2 per gallon.

The announcement was made Sunday that the Indianapolis, Terre Haute and Muncie, Ind. Stars will, beginning this morning, adopt the phonetic system of spelling as recommended by President Roosevelt. This clearly shows that there are still a few fools left in the newspaper business.

Flowers.

Flowers of all kinds. Both phones.
JO. S. VARDEN.

Bourbon's Corn Crop.

Corn is fast maturing and some early planted fields are now in the shock. Lawrence Vanhook has finished cutting a field of fifteen acres of extra good corn, paying ten cents per shock to cutters. While corn will show an extra yield some sales have been made at a price that will make the crop a profitable one. William Fitzpatrick, residing on the Martin K. Tablott farm on the Winchester pike, has sold his one-half of sixty-five acres or about 250 barrels to Frank Clay at $2 per barrel in the crib. W. C. Goodloe, on the Howerton farm on the Bethlehem pike, has sold to Paris dealers 700 barrels at $2 per barrel.

Good Average.

James Hukill has returned from New York, where he went to sell Marchmont Stock Farm thoroughbred yearlings, four by Carlton Grange and one by Allan-a-Dale and one by Requittal. The prices secured ranged from $200 to $900 or an average of $505. Col. E. F. Clay's 10 head averaged $260.

Specials for September and October.

We are making special prices on wall paper for this month and next and if you need anything in this line now is the time to purchase. We can put it on the walls for you at once.

The Public Library.

The Paris Public Library opened on February 1, 1905, and has proven a success in every way.

Up to September 1, after nineteen months existence, the total circulation amounts to 32,213 books, or an average circulation of seventy-one books daily.

There are 1,123 patrons or borrowers, and the library has 4,133 books, 244 of these having been added since the opening. The library takes nine monthly and two weekly magazines.

Hours of opening: 1 p. m. to 5:30 p. m., and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. The library is open Saturday mornings from 8 to 12, but does not open Saturday evenings.

Miss Celeste Lucas makes a model librarian, being accommodating and agreeable to all, a better selection for the place could not have been made.

Paris Man Hurt in Wreck.

In the railroad yards at Barbourville, the other day, the Knoxville express of the L. & N., South bound, collided with a freight train. Fireman Wm. Bryan, of the passenger engine, was mashed between the engine and coal tender, four cars of the freight and both engines were almost total wrecks, and the glass broken out of the coaches. Twelve persons were injured in the wreck, and among them was Mr. Frank Kiser, of this city, who had his nose badly mashed. He was awakened by the smash-up to find himself wedged in his berth.

Lost.

A five dollar bill, between jail and postoffice, on Main street, a suitable reward if returned to Geo. W. Judy at the jail.

Paris Chapter Elects Officers.

The following new officers have been elected by Paris Chapter No. 15, Royal Arch Masons: J. G. Williams—High Priest. Dr. M. H. Dailey—King. Charles A. McMillan—Scribe. Charles Stephens—Treasurer. Joe H. Ewalt—Secretary. T. W. Allen—Captain of the Host. E. S. Sweeney—Principal Sojourner. J. S. Martin—Royal Arch Captain. W. C. Bell—Master of Third Vail. E. D. Bell—Master of Second Vail. M. H. H. Davis—Master of First Vail. N. T. Clark—Sentinel.

Disatisfaction Among Patrons.

There seems to be some disatisfaction among the patrons of the City Schools on account of the hours. They claim from 8:30a. m. until 4 p. m. is too long to keep the children cooped up. It looks like a step backward to hold two long sessions daily. Petitions were in circulation yesterday and were being generally signed by everyone they were presented to, asking the Board of education to change the hours. It does look like a hardship not only on the children, but on the teachers, who are not employed to run a nursery, and with about two hours cut off of the hours now in vogue would no doubt in our mind bring better results to all parties concerned.

M. E. Conference Adjourns.

The Kentucky Conference closed its session at Winchester yesterday. It meets next year at Frankfort. Rev. J. P. Strother is the new minister sent to the Paris Church. Rev. Lon Robinson, who had only been here one year, was unexpectedly changed to the Harrodsburg church. Mr. Robinson had given general satisfaction here, was a good preacher and well liked by all the denominations, and we regret to see him leave Paris, but when the Bishop says go you have got to go.

Court Sustains Demurrer.

Mrs. Lavinia Cunningham, through her attorney, Judge Lilly, of Richmond, made a motion before County Judge Denis Dundon, Friday, asking for the removal of Brutus J. Clay as guardian of Nannie Clay. Judge H. C. Howard, attorney for Mr. Clay, demurred to the motion and the demurrer was sustained by Judge Dundon.

Judge Dundon yesterday passed adversely on another motion of Mrs. Cunningham's. She had filed a copy of a letter from the late Mrs. Estelle Clay, written in Chicago, which she asked the Court to probate as the last will and testament of her daughter, Mrs. Clay. Appeals are in order.

Grand Millinery Display.

Our enterprising and most stylish milliner, Mrs. S. Corne Watson Baird, has set September the 29, as opening day at her beautiful Millinery Emporium. Mrs. Baird tells us that the Fall hats and bonnets etc, will surpass anything in style and beauty she has yet been able to show the ladies of Bourbon and adjoining counties.

Miss Mary E. McCullough, the expert trimmer, who has given such universal satisfaction in the past, is at work again this season, with an able lot of assistants, preparing for this grand display on the 29th. Mrs. Baird extends an invitation to the ladies to call at all times but especially on the above date, as she has something that will please all of her customers.

Mrs. Baird has also just received a beautiful stock of fancy combs, barettes and lots of other pretty novelties that will please the women folks.

Lost.

A watch fob, Elk tooth, with the initials on it "J. T. B. to W. K." Was lost on streets of Paris yesterday. Suitable reward if returned to this office.

Go to Lexington.

A. J. Lovely Company, No. 34, U.R. K. of P., of this city, left yesterday morning on the 11 o'clock train for Lexington forty strong, to participate in the competitive drill at the Blue Grass Fair. The company was in command of Capt. F. M. Faries.

BIRTHS.

Mr. Massie's Funeral.

The funeral of Mr. W. W. Massie was held at "Hidaway," his beautiful city residence Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. A large number of old friends were present to pay their last respects to one of Paris' oldest and most highly respected citizens. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. E. H. Rutherford, which were simple and unostentatious, in keeping with the wishes of the deceased. The reading of the Scripture, two beautiful solos by Mrs. Princess Long, and a few well chosen words from Dr. Rutherford ended the services at the house. The interment was in the family lot at Paris Cemetery, the grave being covered by beautiful floral offerings.

The active pallbearers were James McClure, Robert J. Neely, George R. Bell, Charles Stephens, Ed. Burke, Joseph A. Wilson, Joseph M. Hall and Charlton Alexander. The honorary pallbearers were Col. E. F. Clay, W. H. McMillan, C. M. Clay, Jr., J. T. Hinton, George Alexander, Buckner Woodford, Catesby Woodford and Thomas Henry Clay.

TOUGH PAPER.

Not an Easy Feat to Twist a Bank Bill in Two.

"The paper that is used by the government in its currency is manufactured by a secret process and has characteristics with which the average man is not familiar," said a Minneapolis man.

"Recently I was in a small Minnesota town and witnessed an incident that demonstrates this. A well-to-do farmer living in the vicinity came into the bank to transact some business. In the course of the conversation the cashier began twisting a five dollar bill. The farmer watched him with interest and finally asked the man back of the counter if he wasn't afraid of tearing the bill.

"Here is an easy way for you to earn money," said the cashier. "Here is a thousand dollar bill and I will give it to you if you will twist the bill in two. You are simply to twist it and not tear it."

"The farmer seemed dumfounded at first. He seemed awed at the thought of mutilating a thousand dollar bill. Upon further assurance by the officer of the bank, he timidly took the money and started twisting it in the middle. He tugged away for some time without being able to twist the bill in two. Finally he gave up, and he was certainly a surprised farmer. It is impossible to twist a bill in two, so firm and elastic is the paper used."—Exchange.

IMMUNE TO POISON.

For many years it was regarded as one of the East Indian miracles that the snake charmers of the orient could encounter the cobra in an arena, allow the serpent to bite them time and again and survive the deadly poison. This dangerous feat puzzled the doctors of the British army and was never quite understood by scientists generally until within recent years, when the secret of these jugglers with fate leaked out. The East Indian snake charmer begins at an early age to make himself immune from the venom of the cobra. He takes the infant serpent and allows it to bite him. This injects into his system a very mild dose of the poison. He repeats the operation many times, and then ventures to allow a cobra somewhat older to bite him. Gradually he permits himself to become inoculated with the venom of younger serpents until he has become so accustomed to the poison that his system is immune. By the time he grows up he has become so thoroughly accustomed to the spell that it has practically no effect upon him. It is like the drug habit—one can work oneself to a pitch of enduring a dose that would be sufficient to kill several persons unaccustomed to the influence of the drug. Thus the seemingly audacious trick was exposed as a very practical thing, after all.

ORIGINAL NEW ENGLAND.

It Is Said That It Was Located on the Pacific Coast.

There is a common saying that if the pilgrim fathers had only landed on the Pacific coast a large portion of the Atlantic seaboard would never have been settled. Californians, Oregonians and Washingtonians believe this implicitly. In other words, the charms of the Pacific coast in the way of climate are so appreciated that, having once experienced them, men are unwilling to live elsewhere contentedly. Now, not one man in a thousand living on the Pacific coast knows that as a matter of fact the accents of our mother tongue were heard on the beach not far from San Francisco forty-one years before English was spoken on Plymouth rock.

More amusing still is the fact that the original New England was on the Pacific coast, for Sir Francis Drake in 1579, at the close of a month's stay, took possession of the country for his sovereign, Elizabeth, and named the new acquisition Nouva Albion (New England) because he thought the white cliff near what is now Point Reyes resembled the chalk cliffs near Dover.—Alexander McAdie in Outing Magazine.

The Osprey.

In the highlands of Scotland at the present time the osprey usually makes its nest in the flat top of a pine tree, but formerly it just as frequently selected a battlement or a chimney of some ruin, generally on an island. The nest is a pile of sticks as much as four feet high and as many broad—the accumulation of many years—intermixed with turf and other vegetable matter, lined with finer twigs and finally with grass, much of it often green.—Glasgow Times.

Easy.

"Did you sell horses to those two customers yesterday?" we ask of our friend the horse dealer.

"Yes."

"Make anything?"

"Off of Jones—yes."

GREEN TURTLES EXPENSIVE.

Where They Are Caught and How They Are Brought North.

"The flesh of the green turtle often brings $50 a pound," said an oyster dealer. "This rich meat comes to us from the coral reefs of the West Indies.

"The turtles are caught in nets among the rocks. They are very carefully brought north. They are deck passengers at first, but as the weather grows cold with the ship's progress they are penned in warm rooms below—regular staterooms.

"It's a different treatment that they get, though, at the natives' hands. If a native is bringing turtles north he nails them fast to the deck by their flippers. Strange creatures that they are, they appear to suffer little under such cruel treatment.

"The calipee and calipash are respectively the flesh from the breast and the back of the green turtle, tidbits which, I have heard epicures say, are unequaled in the earth beneath the heavens above or the waters under the earth. This meat is superlatively rich, delicate and tender.

"Live green turtle fetches wholesale from a dime to a quarter a pound. What makes the meat so expensive in the end is that out of a 140 pound fish you'll only get two pounds of calipee and one of calipash.

"Several times when there has been a tight turtle market the chefs of millionaires and of certain extravagant hotels have offered me $1 a pound for live turtles. At that rate your calipee and calipash would come to quite $50 a pound."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

LIGHTHOUSES.

The first lighthouse of which there is any record in history was built by Ptolemy Philadelphus about 306 B. C. It was a tower on which wood fires were kept blazing at night. It was built on Pharos, a small island in the bay of Alexandria, and was one of the seven wonders of the world. It is an interesting fact that the modern French and Spanish names for lighthouse—the one being phare, the other faro—still preserve the memory of the island where the first attempt at sea-coast illumination was located. The ruined tower in Dover castle, England, erected about A. D. 44, is claimed by some authorities to have been built for a lighthouse, upon which an enormous wood fire was kept burning.

The lighthouse on the southern end of the island of Conant, at the mouth of Narragansett bay, is said to be the oldest in the United States. The present structure is comparatively modern, but the first one was erected in 1750, and for nearly 100 years previous a watchtower, with a beacon fire, had existed at the same point.

The lighthouse bears the odd name of Beaver Tail. The southern portion of Conant island is shaped something like a beaver, with its tail pointing southward, and in early times it was known by that name, the two extremities being called head and tail.

No Sex in Initials.

"There is a bad trick in business letter writing to which men as well as women are addicted," said a business man. "I mean the way people have of signing merely initials and leaving you without a clue as to their sex, consequently without a correct form in which to reply to their communication and without a properly complete notion of their identity.

"For example, I have been for three weeks in desultory correspondence with a client who signed 'S. T. Snits,' we will say. The handwriting was somewhat feminine, and I had my secretary address the answers to 'Mrs. S. T. Snits.' We received a correction this morning from Samuel T. Snits, and discovered that our correspondent is a man.

"At other times women write us, signing merely initials, and several letters are interchanged before we discover that 'P. B. Pipkin' or 'E. L. Skeeter' represent members of the fair sex.

The Chone Tree.

Chone is the name given by the Kanakas to a tree which flourishes in New Caledonia. It reaches a height of forty feet and puts forth beautiful white flowers, having a perfume like that of jasmine. The chone is the Cerebra manghas of the botanist and belongs to the family of the apocynaceae. It yields a milky juice, like the india rubber tree, which when evaporated leaves a black gum that softens in boiling water, like gutta percha. It is impermeable, like gutta percha, but has the advantage of dissolving in petroleum. The solution painted or floated on wood and evaporated leaves a thin layer of the gum, impervious to water. Leather impregnated with the gum can remain in water for hours without becoming moist. Moreover, it makes an excellent water proof varnish for boots when it is dissolved in essence of turpentine.

ROYAL Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Healthful cream of tartar, derived solely from grapes, refined to absolute purity, is the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.

Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder renders the food remarkable both for its fine flavor and healthfulness.

No alum, no phosphate—which are the principal elements of the so-called cheap baking powders and which are derived from bones, rock and sulphuric acid.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Bryan Receives a Royal Welcome at Louisville.

William Jennings Bryan received a royal welcome at Louisville Wednesday. In eloquent language he expounded the true Democratic doctrine to 22,000 people at the armory for one hour and thirty minutes Wednesday night.

Standing in the Gateway to the South, he was greeted by a great concourse of citizens, assembled to welcome him on behalf of the Southern States. He smiled as he said, "my friends" and glad cheers almost shook the foundations of the big structure. Now and again in his address, he repeated:

"I bring you a message of encouragement! If anyone asks you for an evidence of a growing disapproval of Republican Administration, read him the returns from Maine!"

The crowd had packed the building to its capacity, when at 8 o'clock, the speakers and those who occupied seats upon the platform, entered. The sight of Mr. Bryan, walking arm-in-arm with Henry Watterson, was the signal for applause. It continued in heavy volume of sound four minutes, when Mr. Watterson walked to the front of the stage. He spoke as chairman of the meeting and introduced Senator Carmack of Tennessee, who paid high compliment to the South's guest of honor. Mr. Watterson then introduced Senator Stone, of Missouri, who spoke briefly, adding his complimentary estimate to the general tribute and closed by introducing Mr. Bryan.

He repeated his belief in the efficacy of the Federal ownership of trunk lines and the State Ownership of interstate lines as a solution of the railroad question in America. He asserted in firm terms that he did not assert that he voiced the opinion of his party, but that he gave expression to his private opinions and belief. He went over the subject fully and set forth the various conditions and causes leading him to his determination. His arguments were received with applause, and if there had been many who disapproved his remarks, as delivered in his Madison Garden address, there were few in the audience when he finished who did not express approval of his attitude in convincing and noisy fashion. His declaration that his statements on the subject had been received with less criticism than he had expected was greeted with great applause. In reference to State ownership he took occasion to say:

"I have no idea that the railroads are going to permit regulation without a struggle, and I fear that their influence will be strong enough to cause much delay, if it does not entirely defeat, remedial legislation. You, in this State, know something of the railroad in politics. When I visited the State and spoke for Mr. Goebel I heard him charge upon every platform that the railroads were spending large sums in opposition to his election, and I have always believed that the railroad influences were largely responsible for the assassination of that brave defender of the rights of the people."

Mr. Bryan charged that President Roosevelt had gained much of his popularity by taking up the principles of Democracy, and accompanied the statement by numerous proofs.

He said that in his travels old age had come upon him and that he had been forced to use eyeglasses, remarking that even if it took four eyes now where it formerly took two, he still saw all things from a Democratic standpoint.

Will Not Intervene.

Semi-official announcement at Washington indicates that the United States will not intervene in the Cuban troubles until it is shown to be absolutely necessary for the protection of American interests there. However, the closest watch is being kept on the situation and as a matter of precaution the cruiser Des Moines has been dispatched to Key West, where she will be within eight hours' run of Havana.

A Smart Horse.

Mr. B. F. Slavin, who lives a few miles from Danville, says the Danville Herald, owns a handsome bay horse which he drives to town almost every day. No one thinks that this horse has almost human intelligence. He will drive stock like a dog, knows every thing on the Slavin place by name, and, without being told, drives the cows home every night and morning. A funny thing about this horse is that he won't let the cows leave the barn lot until they have been milked. When Mr. Slavin wants any of the stock about the place, the only thing necessary is to call his horse and whisper in his ear which animal is wanted. Mr. Slavin says by the use of his educated horse he has to a certain extent solved the labor problem.

Of Interest to Merchants and Shippers.

We have received the following from the office of the Railroad Commission at Frankfort, which is of much interest to our merchants:

Dear Sir:—You are doubtless aware that on the 19th day of June this Commission, by appropriate orders entered of record, adopted a mileage scale of rates (applicable to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, Illinois Central Railroad, Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway and the Southern Railway in Kentucky. Under the law these rates were to become effective ten days thereafter. Prior to the expiration of the ten days referred to, these several railroads instituted separate actions in the United States Circuit Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky seeking to perpetually enjoin and restrain the Commission from putting these rates into effect. The Federal Court has granted a temporary restraining order and we have been notified that the Court will be asked by the railroads at the next regular term to grant a permanent injunction against the Commission.

Among other things, it is contended by the railroads that the rates fixed by the Commission are so low as to result in a confiscation of their property. These rates were made by the Commission after the most careful investigation. We do not believe that any such disastrous result would follow their enforcement, nor do we believe that the railroads can sustain any such allegation, but upon the contrary, we are of the opinion that the rates fixed by this Commission are not unreasonably low, and when all the facts shall have been presented to the court, that the order of the Commission will be upheld.

We are now busily engaged in the preparation of our defense to these suits and you may rest assured that we will leave nothing undone to have our order upheld. In view of the fact that we are in receipt of communications from shippers throughout the State complaining that the railroads are not obeying the Commission's order and that a great many inquiries have been received asking our advice as to whether—in the event the court shall sustain the Commission—the shipper will be entitled to recover the difference between the rates fixed by the Commission and those charged by the railroads we take this method of advising you as to the exact status of the injunction proceedings and also to say that it would be well for the shippers to carefully preserve their freight bills and receipts for all freight paid as the question may hereafter arise as to the right of the shipper to recover should the court uphold the Commission's order and mileage scale of rates.

Yours very truly,
A. T. SILER,
Member Third District.

MINOT LEDGE LIGHTHOUSE.

The First One Was Swept Away With Its Occupants.

The first lighthouse on Minot's ledge was built in 1848. It was an octagonal tower resting on the tops of eight wrought iron piles eight inches in diameter and sixty feet high, with their bases sunk five feet in the rock. These piles were braced together in many ways, and, as they offered less surface to the waves than a solid structure, this lighthouse was considered by all authorities upon the subject to be exceptionally strong.

Its great test came in April, 1851. On the 14th of that month, two keepers being in the lighthouse, an easterly gale set in, steadily increasing in force. People on shore, and no doubt the keepers themselves, watched the heavy seas sweep harmlessly through the network of piles beneath the house and feared no harm. On the 15th, however, the wind and sea had greatly increased and the waves were flung higher and higher toward that tower in the air. Yet, all thought they surely could not reach sixty feet above the ledge.

That night was one of keen anxiety, for the gale still increased, and all through that dreadful driving storm and darkness the faithful keepers were at their posts, for the light burned brightly. On Wednesday, the 16th, the gale had become a hurricane, and when at times the tower could be seen through the mists and sea drift it seemed to bend to the shock of the waves. At 4 o'clock that afternoon an ominous proof of the fury of the waves on Minot's ledge reached the shore, a platform which had been built between the piles only seven feet below the floor of the keepers' room. The raging seas then were leaping fifty feet in the air. Would they reach ten feet higher, for if so the house and the keepers were doomed? Nevertheless, when darkness set in the light shone out as brilliantly as ever. But the gale seemed, if possible, then to increase. What agony those two men must have suffered! How that dreadful abode must have swayed in the irresistible hurricane, and trembled at each crashing sea! The poor unfortunates must have known that if those seas, leaping always higher and higher, reached their house it would be flung down into the ocean and they would be buried with it beneath the waves.

To those hopeless, terrified watchers the entombing sea came at last. At 1 o'clock in the morning the lighthouse bell was heard by those on shore to give a mournful clang, and the light was extinguished. It was the funeral knell of two patient heroes.

Next day there remained on the rock only eight jagged iron stumps.

How Fatigue Is Caused.

The fatigue felt after muscular exertion is chiefly due to the formation within the muscles themselves of certain nitrogenous poisons which are the result of chemical action going on and which have a paralyzing action on the muscular fibers. These poisons are formed by the breaking up of certain reserve materials which exist in the muscles without actually forming an essential portion of them. When these reserve materials are thus split up they give out energy which may be available as a source of heat or as a cause of motion. They accumulate in the tissues of persons who lead sedentary lives, and when such people take much exercise they are very liable to an attack of gout or feverish prostration, owing to the sudden accumulation within the blood of too many waste products for the kidneys to remove at once. The immunity from fatigue possessed by those who are continually exercising is due to the fact that these reserved materials have been gradually removed during the course of training and little remains capable of producing gouty poisons when much exercise is taken.

The Critical Ages.

It is calculated that the amount of heat given off by the human body within twenty-four hours would be sufficient, if concentrated, to bring a nine inch cube of steel to a white heat. It is this heat which literally burns up the body, and the very first day that a man ceases to renew the tissues by taking food he loses about half a pound or a pound in weight. Brain workers give off a greater amount of heat than physical workers; hence they are more liable to collapse. After overwork they are obliged to lie up till they can obtain more capital—in other words, they have been consumed by the fire of the body at a quicker rate than it takes nature to supply a quantity of fresh tissue and muscle. The ages of twenty-one, twenty-eight, thirty-five and forty-two are the most critical periods of a person's lifetime, for at about these ages nature will have fitted the body out with new raw materials, which may or may not stand the test of the person's ever changing habits of life.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Debates Declared Off.

Following a conference at The Seelbach, in Louisville, it was announced that Senator McCreary and Gov. Beckham had decided to abandon the proposed joint debates, in accordance with the advice of their friends. It was explained that the decision was made in the interest of harmony in the Democratic party in the State. The following agreement was entered into by the two candidates for the Senate:

September 13, 1906.
We have had a full and free conference concerning joint debates between us and while both of us would be glad to jointly discuss the issues of the campaign still a great number of the friends of each of us advise strongly against holding joint debates. Therefore desiring harmony in the Democratic party and yielding to the advice of our friends we have agreed to abandon the joint debates and each of us will prosecute his canvass in such a way as seems proper.

Extra Session of Legislature.

An extra session of the Kentucky Legislature for the purpose of dealing with the Sunday-closing situation in Louisville, is now a certainty, according to a number of gentlemen who know the views of Governor Beckham. It is understood that the Governor is anxious to postpone the calling of the extra session until after the coming election, as he does not wish to be placed in the position of playing politics over such an important question. The extra session will however, certainly come, and the date set for it will probably be January 1, 1909. The only matters to be taken up at this session will be the Sunday laws and probably the redistricting situation.

Holds Interest of the World.

Cuba undoubtedly will hold the interest of the world during the week to come. The visit of Secretaries Taft and Bacon to the island republic with the avowed purpose of bringing about a solution of the trouble, which already has resulted in blood shed and commercial disruption, is recognized on all sides as an event of first importance in world affairs. Preceded, accompanied and followed by a formidable land and sea-fighting force, the representatives of President Roosevelt will reach the Cuban capital early in the week, and the prophecy has been made in official circles that their work will be completed within seven days. Within that limited time it is expected that it will have been definitely determined whether an amicable settlement of the conflict in the island can be brought about without further intervention on the part of the United States.

Special Railway Service.

The Traction Line has arranged during the week of the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington to send extra cars from the Lexington city service to our city, and it is suggested that our citizens take advantage of this extra service and go to Lexington in the mornings, and avoid the rush in the afternoons.

K. of P. Lodge Growing.

The K. of P. lodge in this city is in a thriving condition, on Thursday night the First Rank was conferred at Rathbone Lodge on Joseph Winburn, two petitions, those of Dr. Bruce Anderson and John C. Morris, were accepted and one petition received. The second degree will be conferred next Thursday night. The report from the committee to organize a lodge at Millersburg was favorable, and the work is being pushed at that place by a number of young men, who are very enthusiastic.

Acknowledged to Be the Best.

The Old Vanhook whiskey is acknowledged by all to be the best that can be had. Call for it in any of the first-class saloons in the city. 18-3t

CROP, STOCK, ETC.

—Out of twenty-one starts in the past six weeks, Mr. Ed. Bedford, of this city, has won eighteen moneys, with Elizabeth Eads, Dr. Clark, Dodge and Brutus. Mr. Bedford is one of the best young drivers in the country and has for a number of years campaigned with a winning stable of his own horses.

—George Hays, of Lexington, worked a three-year-old Jay Bird fillv a mile in 2:24. She is owned by Will Judy, of Millersburg.

Flowers on Goebel Tablet.

On the stone at the State Capital grounds which marks the spot where Gov. William Goebel fell in January, 1900, the victim of an assassin, some one Friday afternoon placed a large bunch of flowers and ferns, tied with a bow of white tulle. To the flowers was attached a card bearing on one side the words: "In loving memory and in honor of the dead William Goebel. From the Southern part of the State." On the other side of the card were the words: "Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, our next Senator."

It is not known who placed the flowers on the stone. Several persons saw a man, a stranger to them, come into the grounds carrying the bunch of flowers and deposited them upon the stone. A policeman who talked with the man afterward said that he was a traveling man from the southern part of the State, and that he had not been in Frankfort since before the shooting of Goebel.

Judge Harlan's Joke.

Judge Harlan and James B. McCreary canvassed Kentucky together as the Republican and Democratic candidates for Governor 30 years ago. They traveled about the State together on a joint debating trip. In many small mountain places had to sleep in the same bed. They were warm personal friends, and so did not object to this intimacy. One night Mr. Harlan got into bed first. Senator McCreary was not far behind, and just as he entered the bed Judge Harlan raised his bulky form—he is a large man—and said in his stentorian voice: "McCreary there is one thing certain, the next Governor of Kentucky is in this bed." As he spoke the bed slats broke and Judge Harlan rolled to the floor. Senator McCreary caught and held himself in bed and, as Judge Harlan reached the floor, said: "John, you are right, the next Governor of Kentucky is still in the bed."

Takes Sensible View of Situation.

John Sharp Williams, the greatest Democratic warhorse of them all, had this to say when queried by a newspaper concerning Bryan's plans for government ownership of railroads.

"I am opposed to Government ownership of railroads, irrevocably, now and forever, in theory and practice—a question concerning which Mr. Bryan and I agree to disagree. But I see no good to be attained by my rushing into print on the subject. We will simply vote it down if offered as a plank of the Democratic platform. Meanwhile let us not magnify Democratic differences. There are so many things we agree upon—let us magnify them. Push them to the front, if we can. Bryan is not infallible, and does not pretend to be. He is right about so many things, eloquently and greatly right, but absolutely and altogether wrong about this one thing, especially from the standpoint of racial peace and quiet in the South. Let us strongly regulate railroad rates, but not operate railroads."

Gold in Estill.

Several months ago James Townsend discovered gold on the farm of William Henderson, on Station Camp creek, Estill county. He at once leased Mr. Henderson's farm and also the lands of Abner Wilson, which adjoins Henderson's land, the lessee and owners to share equally in the profits. Mr. Townsend obtained a quantity of the ore and sent to the assay office at Charlotte, N. C., and the report of the assayer shows the following as stated by Mr. Townsend: Description, Hematite (red); value per ton, gold, $19.60; silver, $3.72. The promoters are now trying to get capital interested in this mine.

Poolroom Raided.

Sheriff Davidson and his deputies Friday afternoon raided the Turf Exchange poolroom at Covington while the place was crowded with persons making bet on the Louisville races. Bug Holliday, former ball player, and Bud Bryson were arrested. They were taken before County Judge Stephens, who placed them under $1,000 bond to appear before him today.

California to Get 3,000 Russian Jews.

"We have found the promised land," gleefully announced the four Russian Rabbis, who visited Senator Perkins' ranch in the Cuyama valley, Cal., for the purpose of looking for a site for 3,000 Jewish farmers. These farmers are expert agriculturists and before long are expected to come to this country to take up farms on the Perkins land.

A Girl Dies Game.

"Long Live the Social Revolution for Land and Liberty." These were the last words of Zenaide Konopliankova, the girl who assassinated Gen. Min last month in Russia and who was sentenced to death by a court-martial. They were uttered as the rope was placed around her neck.

She refused to see a priest prior to the execution. She mounted the scaffold with firm steps and would not be aided.

On a photograph she sent to her sister she wrote:

"My life was all I had to give."

Different Reason.

"Hello, Binks! How are you feeling?"

"Just like Rockefeller."

"Struck it rich?"

"No. Got stomach trouble. Haven't had a bite to eat for two days."

Mining Coal in Bathing Suits.

Clad in bathing suits and working with a will, men have been digging coal from the bottom of the Des Moines river a short distance from Ft. Dodge. For a long time it has been known that coal veins extended down into the river, but nobody ever went to the trouble to mine it. The recent low water and the agreeable temperature made it possible for the men to work without much difficulty and without the use of diving suits. The coal is not owned in particular, so many laborers have been getting a supply for winter.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.
